

Claims

- [c1] A method for processing asset information from multiple sources in preparation for digital distribution. . The method comprising the step of:
- receiving and processing video containing images and data for assets
 - receiving and processing video containing images of assets only
 - receiving and processing digital images
 - receiving and processing audio files with information on assets
 - receiving and processing scanned forms with asset images and data
 - receiving and processing asset information from agency management systems
 - receiving and processing asset information from asset tracking systems
 - receiving and processing asset information from data and/or messaging interfaces
 - receiving and processing asset information from user input into screens
- [c2] The method of [Claim Reference], further comprising the step of aligning the asset information that was received and process from a different source

- [c3] The method of [Claim Reference], further comprising the step of processing video images using deconstruction to derive the asset images and associated data from the video file using automated and manual processes
- [c4] The method of [Claim Reference], wherein the step of generating the information required for insurance application processing from the receipt of asset information
- [c5] The method of [Claim Reference] wherein the step of receiving information from existing asset management systems and supplementing with data and images for application processing
- [c6] The method of [Claim Reference], wherein the step of receiving information from agency management system and supplement with images and data for application processing
- [c7] The method of [Claim Reference], wherein the asset information is gathered from multiple sources and processed into standard data descriptive sets
- [c8] A method for distributing asset information containing digital images and associated data for insurance and financial analysis.

- [c9] The method of [Claim Reference] wherein the asset set containing assets based set criteria including owner, location, type of asset are selected
- [c10] The method of [Claim Reference], wherein the distribution destination of the asset set is selected
- [c11] The method of [Claim Reference] , wherein the asset information is formulated based on the format and interface defined by the receiver
- [c12] A system for electronically processing asset information received from multiple sources and distributing the information in digital format to insurance and financial institutions
 - interface modules for receiving video files with asset information
 - interface modules for receiving digital image files with asset information
 - interface modules for receiving audio files with asset information
 - inteface modules for receiving scanned files with asset information
 - inteface modules for receiving data from user interface screens interface module for receiving data from messaging interfaces interface module for receiving data from wireless transmissions interface module for receiving asset data from agency management systems interface module for receiving asset data from asset tracking systems

- [c13] The system of asset information processing using information received from multiple sources.
- [c14] The system of [Claim Reference] where the module supports the video deconstruction process
- [c15] The system [Claim Reference] where the module supports the image alignment process
- [c16] The system of asset information distribution